§ 1 Application of regulations

These examination regulations apply to the examination process for the Master study programme "Fine Arts" at the Hochschule für bildende Künste Hamburg.

§ 2 Conditions of admission to study programme

The study programme admission conditions are regulated by the current edition of the Hochschule für bildende Künste Hamburg's regulations for admission, Gasthörer and Nebenhörer.

§ 3 Amount of study and higher education degree

- (1) The study programme consists in total of 120 points (ECTS).
- (2) The standard study time is four semesters, including the time taken to complete the Master thesis.
- (3) On successful completion of the Master examination, the Hochschule für bildende Künste Hamburg will award the academic degree "Master of Fine Arts" (short form M.F.A).

§ 4 Aim and type of the Master examination

- (1) In the Master examination, students must prove that through their studies they have refined an independent artistic and/or scientific position in art and cultural events.
- (2) The Master examination consists of:
 1. accompanying examinations for modules and accompanying courses as per study plan (see appendix).
 2. the Master thesis (§ 17) and presentation of artistic project with colloquium (§ 19).

§ 5 Examination committee

- (1) An examination committee is appointed by the University senate. The examination committee includes four professors, a representative of the academic staff and two students. The chairperson is a member of the group of professors. The professors' and representative of the academic staff's time in office is two years. The students' time in office is one year. Every member has a deputy.

- (2) The particular tasks of the examination committee are:
1. To ensure that examination regulations are kept to
 2. To appoint examiners
 3. To make decisions on the recognition of study time, study work and qualifications
 4. To check examination results
 5. To grant exceptions in the case of international study, for instance if a student wishes to study abroad at a university with which the HFBK presently has no exchange agreement.
- (3) Members of the examination committee and their deputies must keep committee work confidential. If they are not employed as public servants, the chairman must demand this in writing.
- (4) The examination committee can transfer particular tasks to the chairperson by means of standing orders. Decisions made in this context are to be reported to the University senate at its next meeting.
- (5) The examination committee can make decisions if the majority of members, including the chairperson, are present. The examination committee's decisions are to be recorded.
- (6) The function of the ombudsman according to § 11 of the Hochschule für bildende Künste Hamburg basic regulations of the 12th December 2006 is not affected.

§ 6 Examiners

- (1) The examiners for module examinations and accompanying course examinations should normally be the tutors responsible for classes in the modules or accompanying courses involved. The examination committee decides on exceptions.
- (2) In exceptional circumstances members of other artistic-scientific universities or other qualified persons can be appointed as examiners. They must have at least the academic degree to be awarded in the examination or an equivalent qualification.
- (3) Examination content is chosen by the examiners. They do not have to follow instructions when assessing candidates' examined work.
- (4) Examiners and observers must keep examination matters confidential. If they are not employed as public servants, the chairman of the examination committee must demand this in writing.

- (5) Objections and complaints can be made against all examination decisions. For details, see § 66 HmbHG.

§ 7 Awarding credits (ECTS points)

- (1) ECTS points (credits) are awarded for modules and accompanying courses. The awarding of credits is based on the ECTS (European Credit Transfer System). According to the ECTS system, the number of credits, awarded according to the study plan (see appendix), are based on each individual student's workload. One ECTS point (or credit) corresponds to a workload of approx. 30 hours.
- (2) Students must pass the accompanying module examinations to be awarded credits. An examination has been completed if all the required examined work has been completed.

§ 8 Types of examined work in modules and accompanying courses

- (1) The type of examination involved can be found in the accompanying course descriptions and module descriptions. The following examination types exist for module examinations and accompanying courses:
1. Oral examination (§ 9)
 2. Presentation (§ 10),
 3. Written coursework (§ 11),
 4. Final individual and group tutorial (§ 12),
 5. Assessment of sample work (§ 13)
- (2) If alternative examinations are possible, the type of examination and the amount of examined work for the modules or accompanying courses is to be officially told to students by the teacher involved before classes begin at the start of the semester.
- (3) The deadline for examined work is the end of the holiday following the semester in which the module ended at the latest.
- (4) If a doctor testifies that a candidate cannot take part or all of the planned examination due to an ongoing or permanent physical disability, the examination committee must allow the candidate to carry out different but equivalent examined work.

The commissioner for the disabled is to be involved in the examination committee's decision according to § 88 Section 3 HmbHG.

Suitable evidence of a chronic illness or disability may have to be given.

§ 9 Oral examination

- (1) The oral examination lets students prove that they understand the relationship between the examined areas, and where specific issues fit in.
- (2) Oral examinations are taken before an examiner with an observer present. They should have at least the qualification to be awarded in the examination or an equivalent one.
- (3) Oral examinations can be taken as individual or group examinations. For a single candidate, an oral examination should take 20 to 30 minutes. For a group examination, this is to be lengthened appropriately.
- (4) The main points and the grade of the oral examination are to be recorded in a protocol signed by the examiner and the observer. The grading system is to be made known to and explained to the candidate at the time of the oral examination with appropriate guidance.
- (5) Oral examinations are normally open to observation, unless the candidate objects. The advisory session on grading is not open to observation.

§ 10 Presentation

- (1) A theme is to be worked out consistently for the presentation. The results will be presented during a class and discussed. The subjects of the presentation will be given out as a handout.
- (2) Presentations can be done as group work. In this case, individuals' contributions to the presentation, discussion and written paper must be kept separate enough to be individually graded.

§ 11 Written coursework

In written coursework, a complex theme suitable for a written paper is addressed. § 10 Section 2 applies.

§ 12 Final individual and group tutorials

The final individual tutorial takes place every semester. In it, students receive an assessment of their working standard and recommendations for their further studies. The intention is for students to take a regular look at the state of their work. The individual tutorial is arranged by the student's supervisor. An individual tutorial is not an oral examination in the sense of § 9.

In the group tutorial, students present their artistic work to the group. Finally, the presentation is graded by the student's supervisor.

§ 13 Assessment of sample work

In the laboratories and workshops, artistic plans based on an original idea, plan or specification are carried out using various media and materials, proving that students can use their knowledge and skills to independently carry out and further develop their artistic plans. Workshop directors grade the execution and products of artistic plans.

§ 14 Examination dates and registration deadlines

- (1) Examinations usually take place in the semester allotted in the study plan. Proof is awarded during re-registration for the next semester, when the study book is submitted. For the Master thesis, Section 2 applies. If the candidate him/herself is responsible for missing examination deadlines or not sitting an examination, the examination is considered not passed. Reasons for missing the examination which the candidate is not solely responsible for are to be reported immediately to the examination committee and verified. If the examination committee accepts these reasons, then it must arrange a new examination with the examiners. The candidate is to be informed of this in writing. The same applies to a Master thesis or presentation of artistic project with colloquium not begun within the allotted time. § 22 Sections 2 and 4 shall apply as necessary.
- (2) The candidate must register for the Master thesis and Master presentation at the central examination office. Registration must take place four weeks before the examination period begins at the latest (the exclusion period).
- (3) Independent of Section 1 Sentence 3, the examination committee can permit exceptions when judging delayed studies if the candidate submits a plan for completing their studies using student advice services and approved by the examination commission within four weeks. § 22 Sections 2 and 4 shall apply as necessary.
- (4) The candidate is to be informed in due time when studies will officially end according to § 42 Section 2, 3 HmbHG taking into consideration all possibilities of missed deadlines and retakes.

§ 15 Retaking examinations

- (1) All examinations accompanying study can be re-taken twice. Retakes are performed during the next possible examination sitting. For the Master thesis and presentation of artistic project with colloquium, Section 2 applies. Re-taking examined work which has been passed is not permitted. Failed attempts at other universities are included. If there are several module examinations involved, only the failed examination work is re-taken. § 14 Section 1 Sentences 3 to 5 and § 22 Sections 2 and 4 shall apply as necessary.

- (2) In case of inadequate work, the Master thesis as well as the colloquium following the presentation of artistic project can be repeated once, or in exceptional cases and with reasons given, twice, with a new theme (this only applies to the Master thesis). The chairman of the examination committee decides to permit a second repetition of the Master thesis based on an assessment statement made by the professor supervising the candidate. A theme for the work must be requested from the examination committee. Changing the theme for the Master thesis is only permitted if the examinee has made no use of it in completing his/her first Master thesis. § 14 Section 1 Sentences 3 to 5 and § 22 Sections 2 and 4 shall apply as necessary.
- (3) If the Master thesis and/or the presentation of artistic work with colloquium are not passed, the examination committee ensures immediately that the candidate receives extensive advice. This should include definite guidance on the extent and possible ways of gaining the lacking knowledge and skills as well as the time for renewed registration for examinations. A proof of having attended this advice session will be provided, which is to be produced during renewed registration for exams.

§ 16 Signing up and admission for Master thesis und Master presentation of artistic project with colloquium

- (1) To register for the Master thesis and Master presentation with colloquium, the following documents must be submitted to the central examination office:
 - a. the study book, in which successful participation in modules and accompanying courses is documented according to the study regulations,
 - b. the theme of the Master thesis as well as the name of the supervisor and the name of the second assessor according to § 18 Section 2,
 - c. the department in which the Master project presentation and the colloquium is taking place (according to § 19)
 - d. a declaration of whether a previous Master thesis in the same or a related master program was failed on a single occasion or ultimately, and that the student is not expecting an examination procedure at another university
 - e. an objection to or acceptance of observers in the colloquium and Master resentation of artistic project.

- (2) Anyone signed up for the Master study programme "Fine Arts" at the Hochschule für bildende Künste Hamburg who has completed a course of study according to study regulations and has gained at least 60 credits in the Master study programme according to the study plan can take the Master thesis and Master presentation with colloquium.
- (3) The examination committee decides on admission for the Master thesis and Master presentation. They are to refuse if:
 1. the conditions in Section 2 are not met, or
 2. the documents have been incompletely filled out (Section 1).
- (4) Applications for the Master thesis and Master presentation of artistic project with colloquium should be submitted to the chairperson of the examination committee via the central examination office, using the forms provided. Applying to be admitted for the Master thesis and Master presentation of artistic project with colloquium is compulsory.

§ 17 Master thesis

- (1) The Master thesis examination allows candidates to show they can handle a problem relating to their study area within the allotted time under the guidance of a supervisor and present the results capably.
- (2) The theme of the Master thesis is agreed on, in writing, between the student and the examiners who issue and supervise the paper. The Master thesis can be issued and supervised by any professor in the study programme. The student should be allowed to suggest themes for the Master thesis. The time of issuing and the theme are to be recorded in the central examination office.
- (3) The candidate can request examiners for the Master thesis. Their request is to be followed if possible and reasonable.
- (4) The time allowed for completing the Master thesis is three months. The theme, assignment and extent of the Master thesis are to be checked by the supervisor to make sure that the thesis can be completed in time. The theme can only be changed once and only during the first two weeks of the completion period. The completion period can be extended by two weeks at the most via a substantiated application to the examination committee, assessed on a case-by-case basis. A written application for an extension is to be addressed to the chairperson of the examination committee and submitted to the central examination office.
- (5) The Master thesis can also be undertaken as a piece of group work, if the individual contributions which are to be assessed as examination work can be clearly separated and graded using objective criteria which allow clear separation and the requirements of Section 1 are met.

§ 18 Submission and grading of Master thesis

- (1) Three copies of the Master thesis as well as on an electronic storage medium must be handed in punctually to the central examination office. If the deadline falls on a Saturday, Sunday or official holiday, it is changed to the next working day. The time of handing in is to be recorded. On handing in the thesis, the candidate must declare in writing that he/she has completed the paper independently – or, in the case of a piece of group work, the part of the work marked as his/hers - and has named all sources and aids.
- (2) In addition to the supervisor, the examination committee appoints a further person qualified to be an examiner as an assessor, who may be requested by the candidate. The examination committee is not bound to agree to the request. In appointing the second assessor, it should be remembered that one assessor must be a professor in the department Theory and History.
- (3) The Master thesis should be graded by both examiners directly after its handing in – eight weeks on at the latest. The significant considerations involved in grading the thesis are documented in a report.
- (4) The mark is the arithmetical mean of both grades. In grading, the following marks are used:

1.0	very good
2.0	good
3.0	satisfactory
4.0	adequate
5.0	not adequate

Complex grading of the examination work may raise or lower marks by fractions of a mark by as much as 0.3. The marks 0.7, 4.7, and 5.3 are not permitted.

- (5) If there is a difference of more than a single mark the examination committee appoints a third examiner who decides the mark based on the suggestions of the first and second assessors.
- (6) A paper handed in after the deadline is to be graded “not adequate” (5.0).

§ 19 Master presentation of artistic project with colloquium

- (1) The Master presentation of artistic project from the 1. and 3. semesters allow students to prove they can formulate artistic problems distinctively and turn them into carefully thought-out, impressive results, as well as master artistic techniques and processes.

- (2) The candidate must present their artistic project to a university audience in a Master presentation. The Master presentation can be supervised by any professor in the study programme.
- (3) An examination commission grades the Master project. The examination commission consists of at least three professors from the study programme, with at least one professor representing a different department to the other members of the commission. § 6 Section 2 applies as appropriate. Every member will have a deputy. The members of the examination commission choose a chairman from among themselves. The examination commission can make decisions if at least three members are present.
- (4) The examination commission grades the Master project in a closed meeting after the Master presentation. § 18 Section 4 applies.
- (5) A colloquium takes place in combination with the Master presentation. The subject of the colloquium is the candidate's thoughts on his/her artistic project. The colloquium is graded by the examination commission based on Section 3. Decisions on the grading of the colloquium and whether it has been passed are made directly after the discussion in a closed examination commission meeting. If the colloquium has been passed, it is graded based on § 18 Section 4. The colloquium can be declared not passed by a majority vote.
- (6) For a single candidate, the duration of a colloquium should be at least 30 minutes. For a group examination, this is to be lengthened appropriately. In principle, a colloquium is open to observation, unless the candidate objects.
- (7) The total mark is the arithmetic mean of the Master presentation mark according to Section 4 and the colloquium mark according to Section 5. Only the first figure to the right of the decimal point is taken into account; all the other decimal places are removed without rounding.
- (8) The main points and the grades of the Master presentation and colloquium are to be recorded in a protocol signed by the chairman of the examination commission. The candidate will be told the overall result immediately following the colloquium.

§ 20 Make-up of final mark

- (1) The final mark is made up of the mark for the Master thesis and the mark for the artistic development plan with colloquium:
30% for the Master thesis and 70% for artistic project with colloquium.
- (2) For students taking the theoretical department, the ratio for the total mark given in Section 1 is the other way round.

- (3) In calculating the total mark, only the first figure to the right of the decimal point is taken into account; all the other decimal places are removed without rounding. The following marks are used:

from 1.0 to below 1.5 "very good"
from 1.5 to below 2.5 "good"
from 2.5 to below 3.5 "satisfactory" from 3.5 to below 4.5 "sufficient" from 4.5 "fail".

- (4) If the Master examination (§ 4) is not passed or is finally classed as not passed, the central examination office will give the examinee written notification. Instructions on legal help should be included. On request and on showing the appropriate references and proof of having officially ended his/her studies, a written certificate shall be given to the examinee listing the completed examined work and the marks received as well as the lacking examined work required to complete the Master examination, and making it clear that the Master examination has not been passed.

§ 21 Recognition of study time, study work and qualifications

- (1) Study time, study work and qualifications already completed at a university, a similar institution of higher education, in state-recognized long-distance learning programmes, at other academic/training institutions, and especially in courses of study at state or state-recognized vocational academies or technical universities are to be transferred if the student requests it, provided that no significant differences exist between the knowledge and skills gained and the knowledge and skills to be acquired at the university that the student is now entering. This should be verified through an overall consideration and evaluation rather than a schematic comparison. A conditional transfer is possible.
- (2) The transference of study time and study work already completed and examinations already completed outside the Federal Republic of Germany should be handled according to the equivalency agreements of the Kultusministerkonferenz (Standing Conference of Education Ministers) and the Hochschulrektorenkonferenz (the University Rectors' Conference), and also in accordance with the Hochschule für bildende Künste's cooperation agreements with other institutions in connection with inter-university partnerships and exchange programmes.
- (3) Knowledge and skills gained through means other than study that are equal to study-related skills and are required for the successful completion of a course of study are to count towards up to a half of the total study and qualification requirements.

- (4) When examination grades are transferred, the other grades are to be included in the final grade, provided that the grading systems are compatible. If the grading systems are incompatible, the examination will be marked as "passed".
- (5) The decision on the transference of credits according to paragraphs 1-4 will be made by the examination committee. The student should submit an application to the examination committee via the student administration. Documents relating to the transference of credits should be submitted together with the application.

§ 22 Absence, leaving of examinations, cheating and breaking of rules

- (1) An examination result is to be graded "not adequate" (5.0) if the candidate misses an examination without a good reason, or leaves the examination after it has begun without a good reason. The same applies if an examined piece of written work is not produced within the allotted completion period.
- (2) The reasons put forward for withdrawing or failing to attend must be immediately submitted in writing to the examination committee, and must be proved. If a candidate has fallen ill, they may be requested to produce a doctor's note to prove this. If a doctor attests to a child's illness, as covered by § 25 Section 5 of the Bundesausbildungsförderungsgesetz (the Education Support Act), this will be accepted as proof of the candidate's inability to complete the examination, provided that there was no-one else available to care for the child (especially if the candidate is the sole or main carer). If the examination committee accepts the reasons given, then a new date will be set. The candidate will be informed of this in writing; this will generally coincide with the next examination sitting, as long as the reasons for the candidate missing the first examination date do not preclude this. In this eventuality, any examination work already completed is to be transferred. If the examination committee does not accept the reasons given, then the candidate will be informed of this in writing.
- (3) If the candidate attempts to influence the results of their examination by cheating or by the use of non-permitted materials, the grade will be "not adequate" (5.0) A candidate who disrupts the examination can be excluded from completing the exam by the examiner involved or the person overseeing the exam; in this case, the candidate is to be given a grade of "not adequate" (5.0).
- (4) The exceptional situation of students with family responsibilities during their period of study and during the examination sitting period is taken into account. This may happen in the following ways (the list is not exhaustive):
 - a) A candidate can apply to have maternity rights and maternity periods recognized (according to the Mutterschutzgesetz). The application should be accompanied by the required proof. Depending on the facts of the individual case, the examination committee can rule that the required qualifications may be completed in a different form. According to the examination regulations, the maternity period interrupts any deadline period; the duration of the maternity period is not included in the deadline period.

- b) Likewise, the periods of parental leave as set out in the relevant version of the legislation on parental allowance and parental leave (BEEG) should be taken into account. The candidate must inform the examination committee in writing of the period(s) that they wish to spend away on parental leave four weeks before the date, providing the required proofs in writing. The examination committee will ascertain whether the legal requirements that would enable an employee to claim parental leave according to the BEEG are met. On a case-by-case basis, the committee will set the deadlines and time periods allowed; these will generally be identical with the next feasible examination dates or deadline periods. The deadline for submitting the Bachelor thesis can be extended by no longer than twice the intended working time. Otherwise, the work will be considered not assigned, and the candidate will be assigned a new topic after the parental leave period has ended.
- c) If an application is made, the examination committee will take into account other periods away from study work occasioned by family commitments and the need to undertake activities for family members (e.g. care). The relevant certificates must be produced. Sentences 4 and 5 subsection b) are to apply as relevant.

§ 23 Central examination office

- (1) Without prejudice to the authority of the examination committee (§ 5) the central examination office of the Hochschule für bildende Künste Hamburg is responsible for organising examination procedures.
- (2) The central examination office's particular tasks are:
 - publishing of examination dates and examination registration deadlines
 - checking these deadlines against the registration dates given in these examination regulations
 - keeping examination files
 - issuing and receiving applications for the Master thesis and presentation of artistic project with colloquium
 - coordinating the examination dates confirmed by the examination committee and drawing up examination plans for examiners, observers and those overseeing examinations
 - checking entrance conditions and granting admission
 - informing candidates of admission to examinations, definite examination dates and the names of examiners
 - briefing examiners on definite examination dates
 - drawing up lists of candidates for each examination date
 - checking that examination dates are kept to

- notifying candidates of the theme of the Master thesis and ensuring that the completion period is kept to according to § 17 Section 4
- receiving Master thesis, which is to be passed on to examiners
- informing candidates of examination results
- making and distributing copies of certificates and records of achievement as well as credentials according to §§ 24, 25.

§ 24 Report, Transcript of Record and Diploma Supplement

- (1) Within four weeks of successfully completing a Master examination a report in English and German will be made out and signed and dated (with the date on which the last piece of examined work was completed) by the chairman of the examination committee.
- (2) The report contains the following data:
 - the theme and marks of the Master thesis,
 - marks of the presentation of artistic project with colloquium,
 - the final mark.
- (3) This report is accompanied by a list with the titles of all completed modules and accompanying courses, with the number of credits gained in each (Transcript of Record).
- (4) Along with the report, the candidate will receive a supplementary document (Diploma Supplement) an international measure of the qualification gained.
- (5) Report, Transcript of Record and Diploma Supplement are marked with the date on which the final piece of examined work was completed. This is signed by the chairperson of the examination committee.
- (6) The candidate can ask for the period of study taken to complete the Master qualification to be included in the report.

§ 25 Master certificate

- (1) A certificate in English and German will be issued together with the report, including the date of the report. The awarding of the Master degree (Master of Fine Arts, M.F.A.) will be confirmed in this certificate.
- (2) The certificate is signed by the chairperson of the examination committee and the president and is stamped with the university seal.

§ 26 Invalidation of examinations

- (1) If a candidate did not know that he/she did not meet conditions for examination admission, and this is realised after the issuing of the certificate, the problem is cancelled by the examination having been passed. If the candidate has knowingly been falsely admitted, the examination committee will decide.
- (2) If a candidate cheats during an examination and this is discovered after the issuing of the certificate, the examination committee must declare the examination not passed, partially or in its entirety.
- (3) Before a decision is reached, the candidate is to be given an opportunity to speak.
- (4) The incorrect certificate is to be returned and, if necessary, a new certificate is to be issued. The Master certificate is also to be returned if an examination is declared "not passed" because of cheating.

§ 27 Viewing examination files

The examination committee will allow the examinee to view his or her written examination work, the relevant reports and examination protocols for up to a year after completion of individual module exams if these have not already been handed over to the examinee and if a written request is made sufficiently in advance.

§ 28 When these regulations come into force

These examination regulations were published after being authorised by the University's Präsidium. They apply to students who begin their studies in the winter semester 2008/2009 or later.
